not Aiken, are in open sympathy la. In view of these facts, it would the duty of the Government to his matter with a view to the fact that part of the city which holds in arms, at least. These men are whole power and wealth to subvert it, and this property is used not directly, in any of the ways then, should it not be confiscated? a just punishment for the crimes of wars, its confiscation would be a debt to the city. The proprietors, by re- the land into market, believing that, at some time, become a place of ance, have greatly retarded, and, uly checked its progress. They n of it, too, by means not the most fact they cheated the Government ving induced some of the wild In-their rights for a song. If the site were taken into the market, it would be rapidly and the city soon become, from the point of its location, a point of extensive commerce, only one hundred and fifty miles from the coast, and on the cheapest, if not the best, between that city and the Atlantic, the lakes, and at the head of lake navigation seems to be one worth the Government.
